This is by far the least fun newsletter I have ever written.

On July 19 at approximately 10 AM our long time friend and coworker Carroll Monninger succumbed to the illness that he discovered only two weeks earlier. There will be no services per the family's wishes which are consistent with Carroll's penchant for privacy.

I had known Carroll for over 23 years. His passing leaves a hollow feeling that is only filled with his memory.

When we think about Carroll, the memories always focus on his 'Get it done' work ethic, his honest approach to his work and his dealings with others.

The man had every tool ever invented. And he could use them all with a skill few hands will ever know. He was always there to help and never complained about anything. In 23 years I may have seen him get angry only once...and that was at himself.

It was good to have known Carroll Monninger, I am glad he passed our way. There will not be another like him.

So each of us... in our own way... remember Carroll Monninger, with a smile.

Rest in Peace my friend...you have earned it.
